Up until March 14, 2001, the PW2450 was exactly the same as the PW2120. Both of these are horizontal units. The complete model number for that version of the PW2450 is the PW2450H1LE. As of March 14, 2001, the PW2450 is being built as a vertical unit. The complete model number for this sku is the PW2450V1LE. The complete model number can only be found on the model/serial number decal and on the UPC placard decal.

In addition to the engines, the differences between the two units are the literature, pump and wobble plate.
